Program Overview
The Marine, Estuarine & Freshwater Biology Major provides a broad undergraduate education focused on aquatic habitats and organisms. It integrates theoretical courses with hands-on laboratory and field work. The major prepares you for employment in many careers and/or entry into graduate programs and offers many opportunities to become involved in research while completing your degree.

Student Involvement
- American Fisheries Society UNH
- Sustainable Fisheries and Aquaculture Club
- Environmental and Water Resources Institute

Employment Areas
- State and Federal Agencies
- Aquariums, Zoos, and Museums
- Colleges and Universities
- Fisheries and Aquaculture Organizations
- Conservation Organizations
- Environmental Consulting

Job Title Examples
- Fisheries Biologist
- Aquaculturist
- Biological Aide
- Environmental Scientist
- Fisheries Research Associate
- Aquatic Biologist
- Marine Ecologist
- Research Associate

Internships and Research
- Seacoast Science Center
- Shoals Marine Laboratory
- New England Aquarium
- Great Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve
- Mystic Aquarium
- National Marine Life Center
- Oceana

Where Alumni Are Working
- NOAA
- New England Aquarium
- NH Fish and Game
- AquaBioTech Group
- Normandeau Associates
- MRAG Americas, Inc.
- Oceanic Institute

Further Education
- University of Michigan
- Hawaii Pacific University
- University of New England
- University of Wisconsin-Madison
- Western Washington University
- James Cook University

LORI DAMERON
Director
lori.dameron@unh.edu
603-862-1082

St. Martin Career Exploration Office
Career and Professional Success

STEPHANIE BANKS
Career Advisor
stephanie.banks@unh.edu
603-862-2505